

Get Ready for a Tail Wagging Good Time at Paws at the River Pet Day on Sept. 9

August 28, 2017

Calling all pet lovers! The September 9th Yorktown Market Days event features the third annual Paws at the River Pet Day at Riverwalk Landing from 8 a.m. to 12 p.m. This community event is designed to bring awareness to animal rescue organizations and to help place adoptable pets in their “forever” homes. Be sure to mark your calendars and bring your dogs, cats, birds, and lizards to this fun event. The Market is held in the large grassy field next to the two-level parking garage.

Among the vendors is West Village Barkery, selling a variety of locally-sourced animal treats in addition to its “Pawsitive Remedy” popsicles and “Happy Hooves” - all-natural products designed to help pets who suffer from anxiety.

Across the street you’ll find artists Paula Dooley and Barbara Meier showcasing and selling their beautifully unique animal art including stained and fused glass pieces and painted rocks featuring various animals and different breeds.

Just down the sidewalk near the fountain, the Paws at the River fun continues with agility demonstrations, information on spaying and neutering your pets, and other educational opportunities.

The following rescue and animal welfare organizations will be in attendance:

- Critter Sitters and More
- Virginia German Shepherd Rescue
- 4 Paws Animal Rescue
