ABOUT US

The York County Historical Museum is located at two sites in the historic Yorktown village. Our principal museum site is in the lower level of York Hall, at the corner of Main and Ballard Streets. Right next door is the Museum on Main, located in the National Park Service's reconstructed 18th century Medical Shop.

In our Museums you can view a variety of exhibits that tell the rich and varied stories of York County's history. Learn about the people, places, and cultures that helped to shape our county and the region.

The history of our county has been influenced by military service since the 17th century. Our museums recount stories of both the battlefield and home front during the Revolutionary War, War of 1812, U.S. Civil War, World War I, and World War II.

SPECIAL PROGRAMS AND EVENTS

CIVIL WAR SESQUICENTENNIAL

Between 2011 and 2015, the Museum was a key partner in the commemoration of the 150th anniversary of the U.S. Civil War. Special projects included a new photo, artwork, and map exhibit for the Museum on Main, sponsorship of the Civil War era play "Kiss My Little Girls," and a time capsule containing Civil War related documents and artifacts, installed in the York - Poquoson Courthouse for opening at the time of the Civil War Bicentennial of 2061 - 2065.

YORK PATHS

The Museum has sponsored filming of several short videos that are broadcast on the York County YouTube channel. The film clips highlight significant historic sites and events in the county, including the Victory Monument, Nelson House, historic courthouses of York County, the Revolutionary War siege of 1781, and the hurricane of 1933.

INDEPENDENCE DAY 8K & 5K RUN/WALK

This annual fundraising event attracts hundreds of entrants of all ages and abilities. The race begins at York High School and runs through the scenic Yorktown Battlefield.

WWI/WWII COMMEMORATION

The Museum Board participates on the York County WWI/WWII Commemoration Committee. The Committee was formed in recognition of the 75th anniversary of WWII and the 100th anniversary of WWI. Its members include representatives of historical groups, veterans' agencies, museums, military installations, and the National Park Service. The Committee will be coordinating activities with the Virginia WWI and WWII Commemoration Commission through 2020.

SIGNS ALONG THE RIVERWALK

In 2010 the Museum, in collaboration with the Jamestown-Yorktown Foundation, Watermen's Museum, National Park Service, and County Planning and Parks, Recreation, and Tourism staff, installed a series of informative signs along the Yorktown Riverwalk. As visitors walk along the beach path, they can view the pictures and read stories that tell of historical events related to the river and the county, from the time of the earliest American Indian inhabitants to modern-day uses of the river.
